From tepee to ranch house

Retired machine shop owner Floyd Ellis of 1432 N.W. Ave. B watches while Glades Central commercial arts instructor Harry E. Bloomquist puts the final touches on the signs attached to a Bicentennial display Ellis put together and is now being shown in the lobby of Florida First National Bank in Belle Glade. The display begins with an Indian tepee representing America in 1576 and works through a log cabin representing 1676, a farmer representing 1776, a covered wagon representing 1876 and on to a modern home representing this year. Ellis said he designed and built the entire display.

Annexation details almost complete

SOUTH BAY—Members of the city commission still has to find three others to serve on the board. He said Tuesday night that his proposal for annexation of the surrounding land had been turned down three times by the next meeting on April 20.

The commission decided to set up the authority and responsibility.

South Bay Zoning Board Chairman Byron Walker told the commission he expects most of the final details on the annexation board is handled and will be worked out by April 14. It would be presented to the commissioners in time to discuss them at the next meeting on April 20.

During the discussion, Commissioner O'Neal Walker asked City Attorney Allen Everard how the city would go about the annexation.

Everard explained that if the people living in the area to be annexed asked to be annexed, and the city agreed, it could be accomplished by a city ordinance. If the landowners are involved, a referendum would have to be held in both the city and the land to be annexed.

He said both the city and the voters would have to be annexed would have to be for the annexation before it could be accomplished.

Everard said he couldn't answer, however, a question raised by Byron Walker on how the annexation could be accomplished if the land is owned by a corporation.

Part of the land to be annexed is farmland owned by U.S. Sugar Corp. Everard said he would try to find out what laws would apply in such an instance should U.S. Sugar decide it didn't want its land included in the annexation.

U.S. SUGAR—President John Boy and the corporation's vice president in charge of real estate, S. K. Swain, were out of town this week and could not be reached for comment. They were expected to meet to discuss the proposed annexation today, however.

Mrs. Nancy Caranagh of the voter division of the State Division of Elections in Tallahassee said she had never run across the problem before and she had no answer.

Mrs. Cavanagh said annexation laws have changed to a great extent during the past two to three years. Mayor Jay S. Smith, in a telephone interview with Walker he had found two people, who he didn't name, to serve on a proposed City Board of Adjustments, and board to act as a neutral body when there is a dispute between the zoning board and the city commissioners. Although the commission would still maintain final authority and responsibility.

In still another related area, City Manager A. R. Grigsby received authority to go ahead with a $5,000 down payment on a new lot adjacent to the city park which are now owned by the Belle Glade Housing Authority.

In other business, the commissioners voted to name Jimmy McCrae

Fire Chief of the city to replace former chief, John Smith. McCrae has been a member of the department since Oct. 29.

The new fees would amount to $37,650 per year compared to $38,000 in the last contract, and would be paid over two years instead of the previous two-year contract.

They want a yes-or-no answer on this tonight," he told the commissioners, in order that he could make plans on what to do with his mobile homes on the site and make other arrangements to pull out of South Bay in June.

One of the complaints Middleton made to the commissioners was that former city water Director Loma Harrelle Jr. and present Public Works Director Bob McGlogan had tried to hire his two employees away from him to work for the city when Utility Caretakers leave the area.

He also said that his public works director, Harrelle didn't show up for the meeting.

In the right ticket place at the right time paid off early Sunday morning for Belle Glade Police Sgt. John Youngblood when he was able to stop a murder here.

Youngblood was patrolling on Southwest Avenue B Place when he was stopped by a man at Southwest Street who told him a man had been killed near the Go Drop Inn, "and there goes the woman who did it," pointing out a woman walking by.

He stepped out of his car and stopped Jamie Bell Williams, 51, of 625 S.W. Ave. C Apt. 2, who was eventually charged with the murder in the first degree of Dolphus "Jitterbug" Paul Jr., 31, of an unknown address.

40 years of baseball

Somewhere in the vicinity of 40 years of little league baseball were recognized Monday afternoon by Glades Yough Baseball, Inc. when President Findlay M. Pate presented plaques to Perry "Butterball" Ridgdon and Lomas Amerine (left and right) for their service to the baseball players. Ridgdon said he has worked with the kids for 22 years, with never a son of his own playing, and Amerine said he has been on the job for 16 years. The presentations were made the day of the first games.

Five charged in brawl

Five people have been charged with a water fight that ended in a free-for-all at Larry's Lounge Saturday afternoon which began with an argument between Mrs. Linda Simeone, wife of the lounge owner, and one of the waitresses employed there.

Belle Glade Police detective supervisor James Eberle said he and Carl Collins, 55, of 41 S.W. Ave. D with aggravated assault and his son, Malcolm (Buddy) Collins, 38, of the same address, with resisting arrest.

No complaints made by the two Collins' three other arrests were made Monday.

Jenaro Herrera, 42, of South Bay was charged with assault and battery on two sisters, Hortencia Gonzalez, 22, and Elida Gonzalez, 20, of Pahokee were also charged with assault and battery.

Eberle said he and detective Tom Wall followed a call at the lounge and found two women fighting on the floor while the younger Collins was involved in another area.

Eberle said Patrolman Larry Thompson had followed him into the bar and he and Thompson call out, "I'm here."

"I turned around," Eberle said, "and saw Larry trying to hold this man, who turned out later to be Carl Collins. Eberle said, "I got involved with blood and I didn't know who he was until later."

The detective said the older Collins broke away from Thompson and he went after Carl with the heel of his hand and took his pistol out of his hip pocket.

As Eberle was getting the older Collins back under control, Eberle said the younger Collins charged across the floor and was only restrained when Walker, Thompson and Michael Ziegler, police auxiliary captain, dashed him into a booth and handcuffed him.

John Simeone, 51, of 625 S.W. Ave. C, was charged with assault and battery on the two Collins' three other arrests.

Belle Glade City Clerk June Boglioli and South Bay City Clerk Virginia Walker were among those attending a demonstration week of three computer-based voting systems from which the county is expected to choose a replacement system

Utility contract not renewed

SOUTH BAY—In a verbal meeting of charges, commissioners charged the city with "yes or no answer tonight," the city decided to end its two-year experiment of contracting for water and sewer plant operations.

In a 3-1 vote, the city commission decided to allow its contract with Utility Caretakers die a natural death on June 19.

The decision ended an often-tense relationship between the city and the Lantana based firm headed by president John Middleton. That relationship began on a rainy June night in 1973 when Middleton called in to do what he could to take care of overflowing sewer lines while the city's water and sewer plant operator was taking a vacation.

Middleton set the tone for the confrontation when he catalogued a list of services he had provided the city but for which he had never been paid.

He then gave the acting city clerk a copy of the contract he wanted the city to sign, saying it was essentially the same except for the fees to be paid by the company, and a list of grievances on the last page he wanted worked out on paper.

The new fees would amount to $37,650 per year compared to $38,000 in the last contract, and would be paid over two years instead of the previous two-year contract.

They want a yes-or-no answer on this tonight," he told the commissioners, in order that he could make plans on what to do with his mobile homes on the site and make other arrangements to pull out of South Bay in June.

One of the complaints Middleton made to the commissioners was that former city water Director Loma Harrelle Jr. and present Public Works Director Bob McGlogan had tried to hire his two employees away from him to work for the city when Utility Caretakers leave the area.

He also said that his public works director, Harrelle didn't show up for the meeting.

He came in and did a good job for us."

Mayor Jay S. Smith said Commissioners Don Tanner, O'Neal Walker and Billy Wells all agreed that they felt it is time the city begin operating the water and sewer plants with its own personnel rather than contract for the services.

Commissioner Vernita Cox said she feels Middleton did a great deal for the city.

"$37,000 a year sounds like a lot to the city," he said, "but we can't make anything."

"I don't want Mr. Middleton to work for nothing," Walker said, "but I believe we can go with our own organization and have better service with our water."

"For other reasons," Tanner said, "I agree with Mr. Walker. We're a thriving city and I believe we should have everything under our own wings. This is no reflection on Mr. Middleton."

Woman charged in murder

Belle Glade last week had the gun gone.

It started Wednesday when Police Detectives Dan Crist and Darrell Highsmith saw a car they thought might have been involved earlier in the day in a Fort Myers armed robbery and abduction.

When the two detectives attempted to stop the car, the driver, Verita Lee Williams, 20, of Fort Myers, refused to stop. When it was only after another car responded that the officers were able to force the car to stop.

Ms. Williams and two juvenile girls alighted from the car and the two detectives saw one of the girls had a pistol in her left hand which later turned out to be a .25 caliber automatic.

The officers forced the girls to put their hands on top of the car and the one with the gun put only her right hand up until after she was able to hide the weapon in her thighs.

It wasn't until Highsmith kicked the girl's legs apart that the girls put their hands on top of the car and the one with the gun put only her right hand up until after she was able to hide the weapon in her thighs.

It was the second time

Williams had been killed in the car. The first time was in 1972 when she was shot and killed in the chamber and was cracked and ready to fire.

Highsmith was patrolling on Southwest Avenue B Place when he was stopped by a man at Southwest Street who told him a man had been killed near the Go Drop Inn, "and there goes the woman who did it," pointing out a woman walking by.

He stepped out of his car and stopped Jamie Bell Williams, 51, of 625 S.W. Ave. C Apt. 2, who was eventually charged with the murder in the first degree of Dolphus "Jitterbug" Paul Jr., 31, of an unknown address.

Lately there has been a rapid increase in the growth of plants and our ornamentals and certainly this has not gone unnoticed by our insect pests. Recently there has been a large hatch of our common grasshoppers and these are feeding on araricaria lily, hibiscus and several other of our common ornamentals.

In the immature stages the grasshopper is black with stripes down the top of the back and as the year progresses this grasshopper will get larger until it reaches a size of 3 to 3½ inches. Since grasshoppers are easy to see they should be controlled before they become numerous. If only a few are involved removing them by hand and destroying them is the easiest method of control.

If they build up to large numbers, sprays such as Sevin or Chlordane will provide effective control.

Some types of chewing insects such as caterpillars begin to appear in large numbers are various types of beetles. Some types prefer eating the flowers or buds while others stick to the tender foliage.

Most beetles feed during the cooler parts of the day and some feed only at night. This makes detection of them difficult.

The most efficient way of controlling these is to apply an insecticide such as Sevin, Chlordane or Diazinon to the foliage. If the beetles are present you are applying the insecticide the contact type such as Malathion would also give effective control.

You will find in the many cases that you will notice the beetles are on the parts of the plant and very rarely will you see the beetle actually feeding on it. Another type of chewing insect is the caterpillar.

These types will feed on the tender parts of the day, early in the morning or late in the evening, or will feed entirely at night. Cutworms are another type of caterpillar which causes extensive

Dateline History*British evacuate Boston - Putnam moves in

DORCHESTER HEIGHTS, MASS., Mar. 17/76—Boston is free! The British have evacuated the city under the guns of Gen'l Washington.

Content of a message in a letter received a week ago from the British in Boston is not known. It said Gen'l Sir William Howe was preparing to evacuate Boston, anyway. It claimed that on the urgent request of the Boston Selectmen, Gen'l Howe will remain from destroying Boston if permitted to sail away unmolested with "the honors of war."

Gen'l Washington called his officers into council to appraise the letter. They were suspicious of it. His reply, dictated by Gen'l Gates, was that since Howe did not sign the letter, it could not be considered binding for the British. Hence the letter must be ignored by the Americans.

It didn't help that Gen'l Washington could get no informant nor spy to give him accurate details of the situation.

However, a Capt. Irvine, master of a merchant ship in the harbor, came ashore here last night & reported the British were loading their transports in Boston, including artillery. All Tories in Boston are offered free transport by sea. Irvine says some Civilians expect the town to be torched at the 11th hour, as Gen'l Howe claims, but for the near hurricane storm, the British would have launched a devastating assault on Dorchester Heights.

Like Bunker's Hill, all are attempting to determine if Irvine is a spy planted to tell that story. The import of the decision is that if Howe is really leaving to attack, say, New York — then Washington would be making a mistake to keep his forces tied up in Boston. He would be well advised to dispatch them quickly to New York, where he has more May'ns. Gen'l Charles Lee. But Howe's ship is not far from Boston, so claims, but for the near hurricane storm, the British would have launched a devastating assault on Dorchester Heights.

General Washington is said to be awaiting story. The import of the decision is that if Howe is really leaving to attack, say, New York — then

Washington would be making a mistake to keep his forces tied up in Boston. He would be well advised to dispatch them quickly to New York.

When Americans boldly fortified the front of the Hook's Hill 13 days ago, the end of the British occupation of Boston had begun. And as last night drifted into dawn today, we saw the fruits of Gen'l

Washington's strategy ripe into sweet victory.

As dawn broke, the Redcoats sought the wharves, entering small boats which rowed out to

One last question among the Americans was:

"Are the British heading to leave, or loading to assault us?" Artilleries stood at the guns of Dorchester Heights with lighted torches. But no officer yelled, "Fire."

One at a time the British ships spread canvas. They were moving out of range. Americans were held in suspense for minutes after the last sail grew small.

At Charlestown Neck, Brig. Gen. John Sullivan reported seeing British sentries still standing on a rampart of the British stronghold above the burned town. Getting a better glass, he noted none of them were walking post. They didn't even turn their heads.

Sullivan & a brigade major took a small party up the hill, entering the fort carefully. They were greeted by a silent wooden sentry bearing a sign, "Welcome, Brother Jonathan." Sullivan laughed & ordered his men to occupy the remains of Charlestown, in British hands since its burning last June during Bunker's Hill.

Maj. Gen. Artemas Ward selected 500 men who have all had smallpox & at 100 today entered Boston Neck. The last mile to the city was covered with iron horses to beat the British left to impede us.

Maj. Gen. Artemas Putnam's force of 4,000 Americans crossed in boats to Sewell's Landing, entering Boston at noon. Putnam formally took possession of Boston in the name of "The United Colonies." General Washington did not join the victorious entry. He had paperwork to tend.

Besides, the British ships have not sailed away. They ride at anchor just out of range. But—after years of occupation—Boston is free of Redcoats on this day.

QUESTION:

With spring around the corner, we want to purchase a freezer to store food from our garden. Can you tell us what to consider before buying?

We are a family of four and rent a small home.

ANSWER: There are other types of coolers than those which will tie the leaf together. Consider the type which will provide protection for them while they are feeding. These types are not very common and much the most often found in our area is the leaf roller that attacks our Cannon Lilies.

Sprays of Sevin or Chlordane will aid in control of caterpillars. Caterpillars become more difficult to control as they grow larger so the sooner control measures are taken the more effective will be the control.

In general for most chewing pests such as we have mentioned so far are very effective and control can be obtained with Dimethoate (Cyagon), Malathion or in some cases Toxaphene will give effective control.

Other types will feed during the cooler parts of the day, early in the morning or late in the evening, or will feed entirely at night. Cutworms are another type of caterpillar which causes extensive spray foods to easy to see, reach.

6 cu. ft. is allowed for each member of the family; a family of four would require 20 to 24 cu. ft. of storage. You should include freezer space you now have in your refrigerator. Size also depends on shopping and cooking habits, also food turnover.

In selecting a brand, consider the manufacturer's reputation for quality, including leadership features introduced over the years.

Ask acquaintances who bought that brand about performance. Collect literature. Be sure to have salesmen demonstrate and explain features. Listen to all that's available.

Pot Likker

by R.D. Santee

I'm a confirmed bachelor. Not by choice but by necessity. That is, it is necessary for my mental and emotional well being that I avoid entanglements with that gender whose sole purpose in life is to find one man and make him miserable for the rest of his life.

Now, before I get too many letters assailing my previous statement, let me say that I am definitely in a minority here. Marriage, for most, is a noble and desirable state. Just not for me.

Let me illicidate strictly from my experience with the opposite sex.

I have the utmost difficulty figuring a woman out. You must de-code everything she says. You assume she doesn't mean what she's saying when, all along, she thinks she's saying exactly what she means. If you take her literally you're in trouble. You must tell her that her Aunt Sadie is attractive when, in reality, she's ugly as sin. Then when you finally let the truth out she attacks you for lack of good taste (which means Aunt Sadie is attractive) or for lying to her in the first place (which means Aunt Sadie is ugly as sin but she just needed something to get mad at you about).

If you keep company with a lady for any period of time (one day or less) you begin to feel like the object of a hunt. She will ask questions of you that you really would discuss discreetly with your physician. If you've ever been a witness for the defense, then you know how it feels when the prosecution finishes cross examining you.

I once thought that I may be putting too much emphasis on the matter of understanding women. It was a mistake. Only a hasty retreat saved me.

All in all though, I guess the world could be an awfully dull place with out these creatures. And I, for one, have not yet thrown in the towel on determining what makes a woman think like she thinks.

I have devised a new plan. I figure I'll listen to Mr. Kissinger he's been talking in circles for years. If I can decipher what he's saying...can the riddle of female conversation be far behind?

Something wrong

There is something morbidly attractive about the scene of a major highway accident which brings out the best in some people and the worst in others...but for people can resist the impulse to stop and stare.

Such was the case Monday afternoon on SR80 when rescue workers were cutting apart the car which had entombed Richard S. Higgins of Lake Worth to pull his body from the wreckage.

One of the biggest problems faced by the workers and the law enforcement officers on the spot was crowd control.

There was no common denominator to the members of the crowd. There were male and female, young and old, black and white. The gruesome curiosity knew no discrimination on grounds of age, sex or race.

What was hard to understand however, were the adults with children. There was one woman with a three-year-old girl on her shoulders who walked right up to the wreck just as the workers were beginning to reveal the remains of the driver.

It wasn't pretty but the woman was apparently trying to let the little girl get a good look while at the same time another woman with four older children were allowing the youngsters to take pictures of every gory detail until everyone was forced back by officers on the scene.

Something might possibly be gained by allowing the adults on the scene get a look at what can happen but we can only agree with Deputy Sheriff Richard Browning when he confronted the woman with the girl on her shoulders.

"There's gotta be something wrong with you, lady."

No bouquets

A rose by any other name is still a rose but progress, depending on where you stand, isn't always sweet to one person as it is another.

Sometimes the odor gets downright rancid for the person standing downwind.

And the people in the Glades may be downwind of the new computerbased voting machines the county will probably be equipped with in the near future.

As a matter of fact, during general elections, Glades voters might have a computer projection on election results long before it's possible to find how the voting in their area presents itself.

Judging from the demonstration last week of three versions of the computer-based polling equipment, hours could pass before the results are known and then they'll be shown only in West Palm Beach, not in the Glades.

The problem is that every one of the new systems reduces the ballots to punch cards designed to be fed into a computer and the computer is in West Palm Beach.

Every one of those cards must be transported to the city, either all together or by individual precincts. County Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester pointed out that records could just as well be transported but now, there is still a record on the election machines should something happen to those records.

Let's face it, more than one car has been wrecked on SR80 between Belle Glade and West Palm Beach and more than one has gone into a canal alongside the road.

Then where would the records be?

City elections could also be a problem, with the election results being tabulated on the coast in two of the three systems shown and possibly in the third.

There are, as Mrs. Winchester agreed, a lot of bugs to be worked out in the systems shown. We'll go along with that and the only reasonable answer we can see would be to set up a terminal in the Glades to do the counting out here.

We're not sure we could support this version of "progress" otherwise.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Noticed a big headline in the paper the other day speculating about who was going to get what when they carried up Howard Hughes' financial empire and I believe I could've figured out who was gonna come off top dog.

When agents of the Infamal Revenue Service scooted out to Houston Service as soon as they heard The Man was dead, there ain't much doubt Uncle Sam is gonna do his dead level best to rake off the top.

Have to admit though, it did seem just a little macabre for IRS men to show up almost before the plane's wheels had stopped rolling to fingerprint a corpse to make sure it really was Howard Hughes who had died on his way to the hospital.

I guess they figured they were entitled though, what with the first three letters of funeral spelling FUN to do just about anything that tickled their fancy.

And you tickled their fancy was obviously getting a nice hold on as-much-coin-as-they-could.

Actually, I wasn't too worried about what was going to be done with all that loot once I'd done thought about it and realized there was no way for me to grab off a share.

Ain't it nice to know someone cares about you when you're dead and gone?

Like the comedian said to the life insurance salesman, "Sir, I'll take a policy. Gimme a $150,000 policy for every one of my relatives...then write in a clause that says they gotta pay it all back."

"Wouldn't you have a nice quiet funeral?"

Even if I did find old Uncle Howie had left me a little bitty slice of the action, like his share of TWA for instance, I'd probably find some way to fatten up and reverse the old saying about Revene to Revene.

I've always had it pretty easy for anyone to make the second million once they've pulled in the first, but with a cracker, there's always room for doubt, especially a cracker named Jones.

Call it fate, kismet or whatever bogeyman you like but there ain't no way some people can scratch together two dimes to rub together and keep both of 'em any length of time.

That's why most of us will never have to worry about having the IRS spooking around our coffins. Just ain't worth it.

FLORIDA GOVERNMENT

by Allen Morris

The site of Tallahassee was chosen in 1823 as the seat of government of the recently-formed Territory of Florida. John Lee Williams, of Pensacola, and Dr. W.H. Simmons, of St. Augustine, were named commissioners to select a permanent seat of government. They chose a site on the Ochlockonee and Suwannee Rivers. The exact location seems to have been determined by the proximity of a beautiful stream and waterfall directly east of the "old fields" of the Seminole Indians, then living on Lake Lafayette. The word "Tallahassee" is of Creek derivation meaning literally "old town." It is frequently translated "old fields."

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:

Please pardon me if I do not address you by name but on your Herald's " masthead" the editor's name is in such small type that unless it has a microscope it is impossible to read it.

I am writing to compliment you on the excellent coverage of your paper. The coverage of news of the Glades and especially your recent stories on our projected museum, an addition to the city library, which is to be named for myself.

Of course, I feel greatly honored for this, but particularly I wish to thank the editor for the front page story of the issue of Mar. 18, titled "John the Baptist of the Everglades" recalled by quote left to me by Mrs. Ruth Wedgwood.

In this letter I tell that we should not forget nor overlook what my father has done towards the development of the Everglades.

You also quoted the Everglades historian Andrew Jackson Hanna who told more on what my father accomplished, and why and how.

You know that among the collection of photos, documents and books which I shall turn over to this museum is one scrapbook which contains my weekly column, called "Sawgrass Sagas," which appeared in the Herald in 1971-72, some of which contain historical plain junk.

I believe that a person should be commended for doing a good job. That's why I write you now as I already have written to Mrs. Wedgwood.

She deserves a story here, not from me, since I am out of touch with her in the Glades, and considering the disabilities of age, I am afraid that my writing is past.

So don't be so modest. In the future, put your name so folks can read it, and for now, Adios.

Circo Romano en el Africa

Increible como parezca hoy en la actualidad existe un nuevo "circo romano" en que cristianos fieles son echados a las "fieras" para ser devorados; existiendo uno peor que Nerón como gobernante de una nación, en que los "Derechos humanos" están muy por debajo de lo que fue en la Roma Imperial.

Este lugar es MALAWI, en África Central. Los cristianos perseguidos son los TESTIGOS DE JEHOVA, a los que se les ha negado todo derecho como ciudadanos y como humanos, entregándolos a los propios gobiernos, en manos de la chusma desenfrenada, que van detrás, quemarles las casas, hasta violar mujeres indefensas, castigar a los hombres, y por último el asesinato.

El circo romano, obra del emperador Vespasiano con sus 100 noches continuas de función corrida, queda empescado ante la barbarie de la chusma de MALAWI, en que violan repetidas veces a madres delante de sus hijos, amarran a jóvenes y de frente a sexos desnudos a un hombre y luego les ponen aji picante en sus heridas, para hacerlos enfermar de dolor, casas y tiendas del pueblo, todos quemados y reducidos a cenizas, teniendo mucha que ir a refugiarse en la selva donde las bestias salvajes son más feroces y seguras.

Las fieras de MALAWI, son la plebe enloquecida, a la que EL GOBIERNO DEL PRESIDENTE BANDA ha mantenido en sufrimiento, manteniéndose neutrales ante las variaciones del Mundo".

Los gobiernos del Africa, han mantenido "silencio" ignorando estos hechos. Las Naciones Unidas se han olvidado de la cláusula de los derechos humanos de su constitución.

Los testigos de Jehova como cristianos específicos, amantes de la paz que tiene de Dios alianza con la Biblia, han sido integrados y neutralizados de los cristianos en el circo romano, hace 20 siglos, al igual que es hoy en MALAWI entre los que adoran al Dios verdadero Jehova!

Inmates get work training

The man who fixes your car or the woman who sets your hair just may have learned the trade while in Glades Correctional Institution or another state prison.

Vocational training for state inmates is producing positive results for the individuals involved as well as society.

Initial course graduates are getting jobs in many trades for which they were trained, according to the initial report of a study requested by Department of Offenders Rehabilitation (DOR) Secretary Loude L. Wainwright.

The first finding of the descriptive study is based on follow-up reports on 84 former inmates who have been released for one to six months. It shows that over half of those trained in a trade are working in that occupation or in related employment.

Also documents that of all those with vocational training the unemployment rate was eight per cent, which is less than the state average.

Course graduates consider vocational training and resulting employment as an important way to give inmates an acceptable alternative to crime.

DOR statistics show 31 per cent of the inmates released during the last fiscal year had no occupational skill. The average inmate has a tenth grade education when coming.

The effectiveness of DOR vocational training is being measured by a survey of course graduates for two years following their release, as required by the Florida Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1974.

Educational Planner and Evaluator Walter C. Fitzgerald began work with DOR in 1975 and recently completed the first interim report based on findings compiled on inmates who had been released for one to six months as of Nov. 30, 1975.

Another report, based on a larger sample of releases, will be completed after June 30, and one will be completed each year after that.

A total of 114 vocational inmates were released during the sample period, but two have since been transferred with other inmates. Two were lost to other jurisdictions to old age, one died, one escaped, and report has not been received on another some of whom have been placed in other states.

The reports are being made by Florida Parole and Probation Commission staff members.

When the 84 available reports were compiled, DOR found that 85 per cent of the released were employed, seven per cent were unemployed, and eight per cent were unemployed.

Of those employed, 30 percent were working in the occupation for which they were trained and 29 per cent had moved into related jobs.

The remaining 41 per cent employed, six of whom had sought jobs in the field for which they were trained but found that the job was not available for them.

In comparison, the Federal Bureau of Prisons reports that 16 per cent of its vocational training graduates are working the fields for which they were trained. Employers evaluating the Florida releases rate 72 to 78 per cent of them as adequate in the various aspects of their work.

The study will continue as a means of determining the strengths and weaknesses of the DOR vocational training program. DOR teachers reflect to the 1,600 inmates, both male and female. Both the instructors and the course outlines must meet standards set by the Florida State Department of Education, which issues certificates to inmates who complete the training programs.

Aluminum wire dangerous

More than two million houses and mobile homes built since 1965 have been wired with aluminum in the 12, 15, 20 and 30 amp branch circuits for receptacles and lighting. There is a potential fire hazard with aluminum which can develop in the following steps:

An oxide film which does not conduct electricity forms naturally on aluminum.

Unless the electrical connectors adequately protect current flow through breaks in the oxide film, electrical resistance can build up and cause sustained overheating.

The overheating can lead to rapid destruction of insulating material which can cause a fire.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has collected data on approximately 500 incidents involving aluminum wiring that occurred in single family dwellings, mobile homes and multifamily dwellings between 1967 and 1975. The date include some reports of fires with extensive structural damage to the home. Twelve deaths were reported. The Commission has conducted research and testing through the National Bureau of Standards concerning the aluminum wiring systems.

Meanwhile, consumer should watch for these danger signs of overheating aluminum wiring:

1. The smell of overheated insulation which smells like burning plastic is present.

2. Lights flicker, and the flickering is not traceable to any appliances or external sources.

If any of these danger signals is present in your home, you should have a knowledgeable electrician check your electrical system.

Regardless of the type of wiring in your home or apartment, you should consider purchasing an approved smoke detector (not a small sell self annular detector for $50 less) and place it at the top of the stairs or outside the bedroom.

The smoke detector could give an early warning if a wall outlet or switch is overheating.

Consumers should watch for danger signs and have their electrical wiring checked regularly by competent electricians. If you notice any trouble signs, such as flickering lights, hot face plates, or the smell of burning plastic with your electrical wiring, the Consumer Product Safety Commission would be interested in hearing of your experiences.

TAX CENTS

by David L. Reid
Property Appraiser
Palm Beach County

(Q) Does a moratorium because of sewage water affect the tax bill?

(A) The property appraiser must take into consideration any applicable local or state land use regulation and consider any moratorium imposed by any ordinance, regulation or resolution adopted by any governmental body or agency when the moratorium prohibits or restricts the development or improvement of property. However, the property appraiser must be guided by the market activity, and our office maintains records of current sales. This same information is used as a guide to value property in compliance with state law.

We find in many cases where a moratorium is imposed that vacant land sales are still being transacted and from this activity it does not appear in all cases that a moratorium is affecting the market.

Miss Caldwell announces engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Caldwell of 398 Cypress Ave. in Paheko announced this week the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis Elaine, 19, to 1st Class James Roy (Red) Foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley E. Foster of Royal Palm Beach, formerly of Belle Glade.

Miss Caldwell is a 1973 graduate of Belle Glade High School where she was vice president of the freshman and sophomore classes, junior varsity and varsity cheerleader and senior class representative of the student council.

Upon graduation, she received the Beta Sigma Phi Scholarship to attend Palm Beach Junior College where she will graduate in May from the nursing program.

Foster graduated from Glades Central High School in 1973 where he was a member of the basketball, golf and the State AAAA champion Raider football team. He was active in student council.

The groom-elect is now a student at Ft. Campbell,

Ky. He is also attending Western Kentucky University.

Plans are being made for a ceremony to begin at 3 p.m. May 20 at the Community Covenant Church in Royal Palm Beach. No local invitations are being sent but all friends of the couple are invited to attend.

Funeral services held for Garcia

Groveside funeral services were held Monday at Port May Cemetery for Federico Manolo Garcia, a tractor-driver who died Wednesday as a result of an accidental drowning in a borrow pit on land owned by Gulf & Western's Okeelanta Sugar Mill.

Garcia was missing Wednesday morning about 11 a.m. when he was driving his tractor and cultivator around the borrow pit about 17 miles south of South Bay and two miles east of US27. Detective Harry Driggers of the Palm Beach Sheriff's Office in Belle Glade, 49, of 180 S.W. First St. in South Bay, was the object of a search Wednesday afternoon by workers at the Okeelanta mill.

Detective Garcia's Office was notified Thursday morning and Belle Glade Fire Department driver Jess Womack was able to confirm about 1 a.m. that morning that Garcia had been found dead in the borrow pit. The accident is thought to have taken place, that Garcia and his tractor did indeed topple into the borrow pit.

The detective said Womack found the tractor almost immediately after he dove into the pit but although he searched until 5:45 p.m. it wasn't until Friday morning when he returned to the scene, that the diver was able to find Garcia's body.

There was approximately nine feet of water in the borrow pit.

Garcia was a heavy equipment operator employed by the Okeelanta mill. He was born in 1927 in DeArvin, Cuba and although he had made his home for the past 10 years, nine months, in South Bay, had no living relatives in the United States.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Cecilia Garcia, and his mother, Mrs. Celia Medina of Spain.

Mixon Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Four students make Dean's List

Four Belle Glade students were named to the Dean's List of Florida State University for the winter quarter, earning a grade averages of "B" or "A".

Among the total of 3,059 students named to the list were Emilio Echave, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Emilio Echave of 209 S.E. Ave. A; Horace V. Draa, son of Nan Draa of 101 N.W. Ave. J. Bridges, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Bridges of 561 S.E. Third St.

Eighty Belle Glade men will "beat the bushes for Christ"

Some 80 men will gather in Belle Glade Saturday to "beat the bushes for Christ" according to Don Gentes, pastor of the Christian Church at 348 East Canal St.

Gentes said the men will come here to take part in a canvass of the homes in Belle Glade Saturday morning with the goal of acquainting the citizens of the city with the church and its stand on the Word of God and the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

Easter sunrise service to be at Meth. Church

The Belle Glade Ministerial Association will sponsor Community Easter and Good Friday services. The two services will be on April 16 and 18 this year.

The Easter Sunrise service will be held at the Community United Methodist Church at 7 a.m. Easter Sunday with the Rev. Robert Atkins of the First Baptist Church delivering the sermon.

Good Friday services will be at St. John's Episcopal Church at 8 p.m. The Rev. Charles Robinson of Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church will preach.

Clergy of other local churches will participate in both services. All people are invited to attend these services as a symbol of Christian unity in Belle Glade.

He said the men will inform and invite everyone they talk with to fellowship and study the Bible with them.

"The congregation considers itself a fundamentalist church," Gentes said, "teaching the Bible as the infallible Word of God and using the Bible as its only creed book and book of church order and practice."

"We ask you to welcome the men as they come to your door," he continued.

"They will represent the Christian Churches of West Palm Beach, Margate, Palm Springs, Fort Lauderdale, Pompano Beach, Boca Raton, Clewiston and South Miami."

He said the local congregation will serve a spaghetti dinner at noon to the callers before they return to their respective churches.

Further information on the local church may be obtained by calling 999-9811.

Services to be held for Mrs. Bumgarner this week

Funeral services for Mrs. Delise Bumgarner, who died Friday in Glades General Hospital, were scheduled to take place this week at the Postle-Hale Funeral Home in Marysville, Ohio.

Mrs. Bumgarner was born in Essex, Ohio and made her home in Marysville, Ohio. She had been visiting her son, Glenn Bumgarner, who is employed at Glades Correctional Institution for the past month.

Survivors include her sons, Glenn of Belle Glade; Raymond Bumgarner of Fort Myers, Fred Bumgarner of Ohio, Ernest and Robert Bumgarner, one brother Harold Mather of Marysville, Ohio and 14 grandchildren.

Burial was to be in Price Cemetery in Marysville, Ohio. Mixon Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

Detoxing to be explained by CAMP

Camp Alpha, the detoxification center staff will explain its new services of detoxing under medical supervision, expanded out-patient program, and adult day care, at the Community Services Council meeting at 12:30 p.m. April 14 at the Glades Office Building.

Also sharing the program time will be Mrs. Phyllis Rothwell, a nurse and a staff member, both of the Royal Palm Beach area. Mrs. Rothwell now heads "Big Brothers", and wishes to include the Glades area in her program.

The Ministerial Association will present its transient aid system, a re-vamp of its previous one on the Belle Glade area. If you are interested in having announcements for the May meeting, ask early, for there are two groups already registered for interesting presentations. The months of June, July, and August no presentations will be made at the Community Services Council meeting in the Glades.

It is the aim of the meeting to cover all current additional new programs provided in the Glades for Glades citizens.

All people interested in offering items of interest, please contact Mrs. Gene R. Campbell, Community Services Council, Glades Branch, 996-5547, Palm Beach County Social Services.

Marine Master Sergeant Bruce Miller, son of Mrs. Mary A. Miller of 424 N.W. 12th Street, in Belle Glade, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with the 1st Marine Division at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

A 1954 graduate of Belle Glade High School, he joined the Marine Corps in June 1954.

INDIVIDUAL INVESTORS...

Are you interested in a high-fixed income security that pays off principal as well as interest and is guaranteed by the U.S. Government?

It's called a GNMA Pass-through or simply a Ginnie Mae, a U.S. Government guaranteed security made up of FHA and VA mortgages. If you're an individual investor who would like a safe, high monthly income with no records to bother with, you should look into Ginnie Mae.

Individual amounts can be bought for as little as $25,000. Your monthly interest and principal payments are guaranteed whether the homeowners make their mortgage payments or not.

The average life of a Ginnie Mae security is 12½ years, but they are easily marketable. Attracted by their high yield, safety and cash flow, institutions like banks, credit unions and savings and loan institutions are large holders of these securities. Millions of dollars worth are traded daily.

Loeb Rhoades is not only one of the largest dealers in Ginnie Maes, we also have the largest group of specialists handling this fixed-income security exclusively. If you'd like to know more about Ginnie Mae, call or write Loeb Rhoades, Palm Beach Office -- 655-7850.

for mental health

Festival earns $1,400

Clubs, organizations and individuals took part Saturday in the Second Arts and Crafts Festival put on by the Community Mental Health Center-Glades Branch.

Booths, concessions and displays were set up on the lawn of the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center, with the lucky individuals getting choice spots under the shade trees.

Visitors at the festival munched corn on the cob, sausages and cold dogs, jostled while they wandered through the flea market, buying everything from old-style pole bonnets to potted plants to aprons to oil paintings.

Mrs. Gene Cross, chairman of the Glades Branch Steering Committee, said the center picked up about $1,400 from the festival, 40 per cent of the gross earned from each of the booths.

Tickets were being sold for chances on a quarter beef, which was won by Chuck Withe, a bookkeeper for the center in the West Palm Beach headquarters and Mrs. Cross herself made the closest guess on the number of corn kernels in a wine jug. While many people guessed figures only in the hundreds, Mrs. Cross came up with 4,779.

Dr. Naomi Conley said there were 4,679...and she ought to know since she said she spent the night before counting them before they were put in the jug.

Music was supplied through the day by local bands with the Pahokee High School opening and music played later in the day by a local rock group and the Glades Central High School Band.

Tindall tells of old days and rustling

Capt. Claude A. Tindall, lawman in the Belle Glade Sheriff's Office in Belle Glade, served as one of the key panelists recently during a Livestock Theft Prevention Seminar in Talbotton, Ga.

"This was one of the best seminars we've had," Tindall said this week of the meeting, which took place Mar. 25-26. He said the seminar involved law enforcement officers, cattle growers and others interested and was sponsored by Florida Agriculture Commission, Doyle Cooper.

Tindall, known among law enforcement officers in the state interested in livestock theft prevention as never having lost a cattle rustling case in court, recommended the seminar basically concerned some of the history of cattle rustling prevention techniques, concentrating on the era from 1940 through 1960, "when we never had such good theft prevention recommendations for the present."

Tindall said the seminar was held mainly since the stock roamed at large on open ranges and mixed with herds belonging to different owners.

"All the owners would work together in rounding up all the cattle," Tindall told the modern-day ranchers. "And every cattleman could recognize each owner's cattle by the marks and brands."

"Cattle drives were frequent," he said, bringing up a not-so-well known fact of history, "and they often extended many miles. During these drives, cattle would stray and mix in with other herds that occupied ranges the same time."

He said most of the cattle would be rounded up by ranchers in the area and in their area have a list of recognized by their marks and brands.

The owners would then be notified by the ranchers who had rounded them up and he could then claim his strays.

"No doubt there was theft of cattle in those days," Tindall said, "but a lot of it was butchering for human consumption and other sold to meat markets. Some ranchers would sell meat from wagons and trucks."

Tindall said cattle theft became big time operations later when fences started springing up throughout the state and ranches started becoming corporate operations with cattle owners who failed to realize the value of marks and brands.

Careless or no screening of employees who handled cattle encouraged inside thefts.

The absentees owners and rustlers began taking more cattle when the ranches set up loading pens near roadsides with overnight supervision, with more transportation became a reality and when they saw no marks or brands to identify the animals.

"The rustlers would actually help the thief to steal his cattle," Tindall said, "rather than making it difficult for the thief to steal his cattle."

"But the whole blame did not rest on the cattleman. Law enforcement agencies were not making an effort to properly train officers in this type of criminal activity."

Even today, not enough deputies are schooled in the prevention and investigation of theft and slaughter of livestock.

"All the owners would work together in rounding up all the cattle," Tindall told the modern-day ranchers. "And every cattleman could recognize each owner's cattle by the marks and brands."

"Cattle drives were frequent," he said, bringing up a not-so-well known fact of history, "and they often extended many miles. During these drives, cattle would stray and mix in with other herds that occupied ranges the same time."

He suggested the cattle men make sure law officers in their area have a list of recognized by their marks and brands and brands.

and brands along with the serial numbers or identification numbers of all equipment for the sheriff's office.

"Rigid patrol and prosecution will act as a deterrent once the thief discovers this type of criminal activity is not tolerated," Tindall said.

Closing of locks will stop intercoastal boat traffic

Cross Florida boat traffic will be halted for two months this summer while maintenance work is carried out on locks on both the St. Lucie Canal and the Caloosahatchee River.

Gail G. Green, chief of the Gaines Division of the Jacksonville District of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, said the St. Lucie, W. P. Franklin and Moore Haven Locks will all be closed from May 1 through June 29 for repairs and painting.

"Navigation interests are urged to take this closure into consideration in planning their operations," Green said. "Boatmen will be made to retrace the locks to navigate at the earliest possible date."

On the Caloosahatchee, Green said the Ortona Lock will remain open throughout most of the period to allow pleasure boats and traffic between the Franklin and Moore Haven Locks but the Ortona Lock will be closed for a short period of time during the May 1-June 29 period/for electrical repairs.

Green said later and more definite information as to the exact closure dates will be available from the area engineer at Clewiston, who can be reached by calling 813-983-8101.

Bell billing better

Glades residents will find it easier to pay their telephone bills this month according to B. Carlton White, Southern Bell's Belle Glades area manager.

White said two local businesses, Peoples Federal Savings and Loan Association at 323 Bacon Point Road in Pahokee have been authorized to receive payment of telephone bills.

"This is in addition to rather than instead of being able to pay at our office at 309 S.E. First St." White said, explaining this makes two places in the Glades where customers can pay their bills.

"We believe these two payment locations will be an added convenience for Glades customers," he said, "and we're very pleased to establish this relationship with these associations." He said payment can be made during regular business hours at either location.

White said remodeling of Bell's business office to provide more public office space has been completed. The changes include a separate outer room for customers who are paying bills or need talk person with a service representative.

"These changes are part of our continuing service improvement program," White said. "However, customers can always pay their bills in mail using payment card and return envelope enclosed with monthly bills."

Year still dry

So far as rainfall is concerned, March of 1976 came in like last year without the same way-leaving a deficit of 1.6 inches of rain.

The deficit of the month's rainfall amounted to more than the 141 inches of rain which actually fell, compared to the 2.01 inches which has fallen over the 53 years.

Nervous market conditions seem as continuing amidst reports that the Philippines sales agreement involves participating contracts between producers and refiners which alter relationships of the commercial risk elements. They may apply when the consuming country's domestic market is directly linked to world market prices - benefiting the refiner since he is guaranteed supply and can achieve competitive sales advantages - while passing through the consequence of financial costs back to the origin. The details involved are difficult to ascertain at present but the implications appear broad. The terms of the agreement will not change (confined by the volume of the agreement) but price pressures can be significant due to the competition involved. The Philippines have reportedly made a deal of this nature with Great Western United Corp. of Texas for delivery of 400,000 tons annually for five years on a price fixing basis and with SuCrest Corp., a large U.S. refiner, for 650,000 tons of raw sugar in each of the next five years. In addition to U.S. business, President Marcos says Algeria signed a memorandum of agreement for 140,000-200,000 tons of sugar over a three year period starting in 1977. Uncertainty over Soviet sugar buying plans delays EEC action. Delivery of 100,000 tons of 50,000 ton batches and whites in the world expanded shortly. Based upon the above, it is prudent to trade this market with caution and consider the bear side if prices close below 13.57 cents July. Meanwhile, long July positions bought 14.40-14.50 should raise stop protection to 13.57. Bull straddles involving purchases of July vs. sale of September will gain under bull market conditions, declining as board values weaken.

Corn

Despite heavy weekly export shipments and expectations of additional sales to the USSR and Eastern European countries of 1975-crop corn, this market lost further ground on the week. Secretary Bell's comments about the probability of additional corn and/or wheat sales to the USSR caused hardly a ripple in the market as traders felt that these would fit into the guidelines already established and would not materially alter the total export projection nor change the supply and demand balance materially. Add to this the prospect of an increase in new crop acreage and the corn market is lacking in fresh bullish incentive. The technical trend remains down and, like soybeans, futures are approaching the low point of the year. It is well to note that trade and speculative interests will not be willing to press sales at these levels, with the uncertainties of the Russian growing season ahead of us as well. Once the disappointed long liquidation now evident in the market has run its course a period of price stability may be seen as traders try to assess new crop developments. We have to give the bears the edge as the burden of proof is on the longs and until July can clear the 210/230 resistance area technical considerations will favor the short.

FFB pushes for estate tax reform

GAINESVILLE Florida Farm Bureau Federation (FFBF) has begun an "all-out, no-holds-barred campaign" to get Congress to pass an estate tax reform bill, announced FFBF President Walter J. Kautz.

Farmers would like to see passed a bill introduced by U.S. Rep. Omar Burkle (D-Tex.) calling for such tax reform, Kautz said.

The bill is currently in the House Ways and Means Committee.

The 2.5 million member American Farm Bureau Federation has already agreed to make estate tax reform its main national legislative issue, added Kautz.

Burdensome estate taxes are threatening to wipe out the family farm structure, said Kautz. Estate taxes can range from 30 to 70 per cent, depending on the estate size, and forces many heirs to sell all or part of the farm just to pay off these taxes.

Farmers say this not only presents financial hardships for their families, but also hurts the nation because it forces prime agricultural land out of production.

"Estate taxes never fail to strip a man of his life savings," said Kautz. All 6,000 Farm Bureau members in Florida are being urged to write their congressmen regarding this critical issue."

The Burkle bill has three main provisions which would alleviate much of the pressure heirs.

First, the general tax exemption for estates would be raised from $60,000 to the first set in 1942-to $200,000.

Secondly, the marital deduction would be changed in the first 50 per cent figure. The first $100,000 of the estate value would be totally exempt and an additional 50 per cent exemption would apply to the remaining value of the estate.

Finally, the bill would require the value of an estate to be set according to

Meat Markets

Total meat production week ended 3/27 at 714 million lbs. was 1% below a week ago and a sharp 19% above last year. Production figures on face value appear bearish but consumption is obviously firm enough to handle it. A nationwide strike by 400,000 truckers and warehousemen would be bearish, backing up supplies. Though standing aside for now in cattle and hogs, long May pork buyers bought 69.50 or better should place stop protection below 65.00.

Orange Juice

The week noted upon March 1976 expired set the stage for subsequent price softness. An additional unsettling market influence was the reported import of over one million gallons of FCOJ last week. One of the principal market supports has been firm delivered in prices for Valencia oranges in the area of 60 cents per pound of solids. However, as the processing season winds down in late spring, that influence will recede in importance, leaving only the movement trend as a guide to price direction. In order to sustain processor sales during the normally slow weather season, it would be wise to keep in mind that the market must mount some type of end-product price incentive, an action that, in itself, could well weigh on futures. Therefore, the trend appears to be lower, in our opinion.

New England: Quite cool and rainy to start, then clearing; showers and heavy rain in mountains latter part.

Florida: Moderate showers and cooling at first, then partial clearing and of sunny with normal temperatures, some showers in south.

FARM FRONT

by Doyle Conner, Commissioner

The Florida State Fair Authority and the Florida Horse Show Association are to be responsible for their joint endeavor to build a 25-acre horse show facility at the new state fairgrounds in Tampa. As soon as financing is arranged on the $1.7 million facility, construction is to begin and the complex should be ready by fair time next year.

This new horse show facility promises to be one of the finest on the North American continent, and I have reason to believe that in a few years it will be the finest facility to be found anywhere.

The show complex is planned to consist of three exhibition rings, four horse barns with 48 stalls and several warm-up areas. The design will allow for the simultaneous use of the three exhibition rings. Grounds are to be landscaped with native ornamental plants, and there will be two grassy knolls for spectators to view the events.

Parke Wright, chairman of the State Fair Authority, who headed the organization when he was president of the state fair association, believes the show complex will make Tampa the nation's capital for equine sports events. He also plans to expand to more large breeds shows of national and international interest, with year-round use.

During the state fair it will be used to provide accommodations for the breeders shown by equine enthusiasts.

Florida's horse industry has grown greatly in the last few years, and there like areas, the 10,000 pleasure horses in the state. It is appropriate that our state have the finest facilities possible for shows for our $125 million worth of horses.

serious injury. Generally speaking, when there is a serious accident in one area, OSHA inspectors will look for that hazard throughout the industry." Erisman explains.

He points out that employees can also file complaints with OSHA if they feel their employer is not providing a safe and healthful work place.

When OSHA was established in 1971, agriculture was included because of the dramatic increase in the accidental death rate. At the time, the nation's agricultural workers had less than 5 percent of the nation's work force but was accounting for 16 percent of the job-connected fatalities and 9 percent of job-connected injuries, Erisman concludes.

PAST, PRESENT, FUTURE

At birth this child was blessed with a past, a present and a future beyond compare. This child was born an American.

The birthright of each of us as Americans entitles us to an opportunity for a way of life unequalled in the world and there is nothing to stop us from multiplying our many blessings except ourselves. We, like our forefathers, who fought so diligently for our freedom, must continue to fight. There is a small percentage in our great country who, having no respect for law and order, religion or anything else that we all hold so dear, are hell-bent on riot, revolution and the destruction of our traditions.

Let the best majority of us continue to vote to change things in the legal and law abiding manner that has preserved our great nation for so long.

IN RE: ESTATE OF
Kathryn E. Boynton
Decedent

NOTICE OF ADMINISTRATION

TO ALL PERSONS HAVING CLAIMS OR DEMANDS AGAINST THE ABOVE ESTATE AND ALL OTHER PERSONS INTERESTED IN THE ESTATE:

TO ALL HEREBY
NOTIFIED that the administration of the estate of KATHRYN E. BOYNTON, deceased, File Number 76-496-CP-06, is pending in the Circuit Court for Palm Beach County, Florida Probate Division, the address of which is 300 North Dixie Highway, West Palm Beach, Florida, zip code 33401.

The personal representative of the estate is JOE T. BOYNTON, whose address is 1104 Country Club Circle, North Palm Beach, Florida. The name and address of the personal representative or attorney are set forth below.

All persons having claims or demands against the estate are required, WITHIN THREE MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THE FIRST PUBLICATION OF THIS NOTICE, to file with the clerk of the above court a written statement of any claim or demand they may have. Each claim must be in writing and must indicate the basis for the claim, the name and address of the creditor or his agent or attorney, and the amount claimed. If the claim is not yet due, the date when it will become due shall be stated. If the claim is contingent or unliquidated, the nature of the uncertainty shall be stated. If the claim is secured, the security shall be described. The claimant shall deliver sufficient copies of the claim to the clerk to enable the clerk to mail one copy to each personal representative.

All persons interested in the estate to whom a copy of this Notice of Administration has been mailed are required, WITHIN THREE MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THE FIRST PUBLICATION OF THIS NOTICE, to file any objections they may have that challenge the validity of the decedent's will, the qualifications of the personal representative, or the venue or jurisdiction of the court.

ALL CLAIMS, DISPUTES, AND OBJECTIONS NOT SO FILED WILL BE FOREVER BARRED.

Date of the first publication of the Notice of Administration: April 1, 1976.

BRAINTREE, MASS., Mar. 31, 1776 - J. urk is still in Boston surveying the damage & destruction left by the Lobster Backs in or hasty retreat from the town. More than 1,000 oysters have sailed with Gen. Howe. A few have stayed. Gen'l Washington has rather brutally written two days ago - that "one and two" Tor's have done what a great number ought to have done long ago - committed suicide."

Turk assigned me to visit known patriots & get their reports of damages to Boston properties. So I arranged a visit with Mrs. John Adams, wife of the late J. Turk, who was taken with, now away in Philadelphia, at the Congress.

Although I had met her briefly at a formal dinner attended by Gen'l Washington, I was unprepared for the lovely woman carefully tucking in a wisp of dark brown hair loosened from a demanding household chore & smiling at me with large, luminous brown eyes. She greeted me by name, "Come in, Mr. Ellis. I have not seen you since we dined at Colonel Mifflin's."

Although I know Mrs. Adams is the daughter of a minister, I still found her Christian attitude towards the British invaders in her Boston house on Queen Street surprising. She was asked about the damage but was quick to say she was pleased by the apparent sense of honor & justice displayed by the enemy in those cases where rent has been left for the owners & even payment for furniture damaged. She was especially thankful that the Beacon Hill mansion of Mr. John Hancock is safe.

Independent Life's really doing some growing.

Now they've got 217
million dollars more of life insurance at work than last year.

And they've moved into their new headquarters building in Jacksonville.

So Independent Life's growing. So am I.

Who's growing faster is all in how you look at it.

Let's just say they had a head start.

Independent Life
protects your total way of life.

Glades Church News

The Toccoa Falls Academy Choir

Concert to be held tonight

The Toccoa Falls Academy Choir will present a unique sacred concert at The Belle Glade Alliance Church, 425 E. Canal St., N., at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Locals attend convention

The Progressive Missionary and Educational Baptist State Convention of Florida recessed a number of persons from Belle Glade and surrounding areas in high positions during its annual session in Orlando recently.

Among those re-elected were the Rev. J. B. Adams of St. John Baptist Church as chairman of the State Education Board; Mrs. Amelie Allison as president of the senior Women's Convention Auxiliary No. 1 and Mrs. Barbara W. Kight as president of the Junior Women's Convention Auxiliary.

Mrs. Estella Conyers was elected to a new term as corresponding secretary of the Minister Wives and Deaconesses Council. Miss Mary Kendall was named corresponding secretary of the Junior Women's Auxiliary and Mrs. Annie M. Henderson second vice president of the Senior Women's Convention No. 2.

The Rev. G. L. Bradley was named the new advisor to the Junior Women's Group and the Rev. Aaron Drayton of Miami Beach was elected to the new Laymen Brotherhood Union.

Mrs. L. H. King of Clewiston was seated as secretary to Mrs. Houston of the senior Women's Convention Auxiliary.

The convention was addressed by the Rev. Carl Sams of Jacksonville on Friday of the session and was elected to his 27th term as general president.

The 35-voice choir performs a varied program which will be enjoyable by all musical tastes. Music from the baroque era to selections by such contemporary composers and artists as Andre Crouch and the Free Spirit are included in the program. The group has been acclaimed by music critics as among the best high school choirs in the nation.

A unique feature of the program is the testimonials of the Christian faith by teenagers who come from several states and some foreign lands. Two members of the choir are refugees from Viet Nam.

For 45 years Toccoa Falls Academy has provided college preparatory education along with encouragement to students to become leaders in the pursuit of Christian citizenship. The school is located in the foothills of the Smoky Mountains of northeast Georgia.

A love offering for the group will be taken during the service.

Services held for Garry Wayne Parrish

Funeral services were held Monday for Garry Wayne Parrish, an eight year old traffic victim last week, at the Wetherington Funeral Home Chapel in Pahokee with the Rev. Wayne Butcher officiating.

He was born May 26, 1967 in Vero Beach, Fla. and was attending Christian Day School. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Parrish of 179 Alameda Drive of Pahokee.

Survivors, besides his parents, include his grandparents, Melvin and Mona Parrish of Fort Pierce and Joe and Cathy Long of Chatsworth, Ga.

Burial was at Royal Palm Memorial Gardens in West Palm Beach. Pallbearers were Phil Slonaker, R. O. Shackford, Roger Schuman, Bert Ashton, Dale Miller and Flint Scott.

Wetherington Funeral Home in Pahokee was in charge of arrangements.

Quality Education in a Christian Atmosphere.

When someone shares a secret, it's on its way to becoming no secret at all. And yet it doesn't cease to be a secret until you have shared it.

When Jesus preached in the wilderness, hundreds came miles to hear Him. They wanted to share His secret . . . the secret of God . . . the secret of Man and God.

So right there in the wilderness, it was on its way to becoming no secret at all. Except that, even today, not everyone has shared it.

Academically every intelligent person knows what Christianity is all about. But each Sunday all over this world someone is finding in church a new strength, a new purpose, a new faith. For the hearts of Christ's message brings a human soul into harmony with a mighty and loving God . . . whose power gives our lives direction . . . whose concern gives our lives meaning.

The secret that was is still a secret, until YOU share it too.
